

SCOUTS SELLING BONDS

After an unavoidable delay the Maui troops of Boy Scouts started out on Wednesday afternoon in a whirlwind campaign to "do their bit" in selling Liberty Bonds. The four Lahaina troops met at Kamehameha III school at 1:30 for tent drill followed by a parade. A hurry-up mobilization order was issued to the Puunene Scouts to report at their school in the afternoon and Troops 1 and 3 in Wailuku met at the Gymnasium at 3 o'clock where they were addressed by Messrs. E. R. Bevins and C. D. Luffin and given their instructions. Reports coming in today show that though the Scouts got onto the trail late they have been making up for lost time.

Keen interest is attached to this campaign by the Scouts because of the fact that each Scout who sells Liberty Bonds to ten or more different families is awarded a bronze Special War Service emblem by the Treasury department. Some of the Maui Scouts are determined to get this emblem if it is at all possible.

During the first Liberty Loan campaign in the States the Boy Scouts received subscriptions for more than $23,000,000 worth of bonds. The Scout does not handle any money in connection with the transaction, but simply secures the pledges which are executed through the bank which the prospective purchaser designates.

RED CROSS ITEMS

The Maui Auxiliary of the American Red Cross shipped on Oct. 16th, three cases, containing the following articles:

Hospital Supplies

132 flannelette pajamas,
12 pairs flannelette drawers,
45 pairs flannelette nightgales,
27 pair flannelette bed shoes.

Surgical Supplies

24 pkgs. of 24 gauze pads, 4 inches square;
7 pkgs. of 24 1-inch drains, 2 yds. long;
9 pkgs. of 6 1-inch gauze drains, 2 yds. long;
5 pkgs. of 24 1-inch gauze pads, 9 inches square.

176 flannelette bandages,
385 Muslin bandages,
10 knitted wash cloths.

These goods are shipped through the Honolulu branch of the Red Cross, but are inspected on Maui, and not reopened in Honolulu.

Mrs. Dora von Tempsky, in charge of the Kula Unit, writes as follows in regard to her work in the Kula, Keokea and Uloupalakua sections:

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to tell you how spontaneous and willing the workers all are, irrespective of nationalities. Our meetings may be and are less frequent than those in the more populated districts, but none the less the work is done, and with a will.

"The children of all the schools are so earnest in their work, and help out materially, I can assure you; it is a real pleasure to watch them, each vying with the other.

"I could write at length of the different workers, more especially of the people who have all their own work to do and yet are willing to do their bit. I hope in time to be able to interest all classes, but as yet the most work is being done by the hard working people.

"The teachers of the schools deserve special praise, in enticing the children to do their share, besides working themselves.

"In some instances where the Japanese women have young families, I have them meet at my house to help in the cutting out of garments, the district being so scattered and no means of transportation, it is hard to get together.

"We turned in this week 2 doz. and 9 pajamas, 8 doz. shoes and 26 pillows, and hope for more next meeting."

Any scheduled game is forfeit if the team is not ready to play as scheduled at 7:45. Should it be impossible, however, for any team to play as scheduled a change can frequently be effected if notice is given two days previous to the scheduled date of the game. This applies to the members of the teams also as regards notice.

Dr. Lyman Dead

Dr. Francis A. Lyman, physician and superintendent of the hospital at Wailuku, Kauai, died Monday morning at his home after an illness of several weeks. Dr. Lyman was born in Honolulu May 7, 1862. He was well known throughout the Territory and leaves relations on Hawaii, Maui, Oahu and Kauai.

A Notorious Deadbeat Again In The Toils Here

the "Lyman National Bank," at Hilo, instructing that $1750 be sent to him at once.

In the meanwhile, however, the Japanese had become suspicious. "Lyman's" clothes, appearance and conduct were against him. The Japanese took the police into his confidence, and the latter gathered in the young swindler, finding him at Maalo's house. It turned out that the officer making the arrest recognized "Lyman" as being none other than his old friend John Bright, and when confronted with the official impeachment, Bright confessed to his identity. At the police station in Wailuku, Sheriff Crowell identified the man instantly. Even then Bright held his nerve for awhile, but finally admitted that he was the "joker."

Bright will be remembered as having operated on Maui nine years ago, at that time using the name "John Baker, Jr.," and also "C. B. Lyman". He was involved in a number of peculiar transactions, although all were of a minor nature; and was arrested. At that time he impressed the police as being not exactly well balanced mentally and was shipped back to Hawaii.

Later, he turned up in Honolulu and cut a wide swath. At that time he registered at the Young hotel as "John Baker, Jr.," claiming to be a son of Senator John Baker, of Hilo. As a son of the well-known John Baker, his credit was first-class at the hotel, at the stores, on the automobile stands and elsewhere. He had the finest apartments available at the Young, bought expensive clothing on credit and entertained lavishly. After a few days, however, he was identified, and the fall came. It was a great, big fall, too, landing the young man in jail and leaving the city full of sorrowing creditors.

Whether or not Bright has been in jail at Honolulu ever since is not known here. He "dropped out" after the exploit there, and had been almost forgotten here, until his appearance as above noted. To the police he stated that prior to his landing in Lahaina a little more than two weeks ago, he had been in jail at Honolulu four months. It was probably longer than that by several years.

Avery Touring Maui

W. C. Avery, inspector-general of schools, arrived on Maui Tuesday morning and has since, in company with Supervising Principal George S. Raymond, been inspecting the schools of the island. A swing was first taken over to the Hana side, where all of the small schools were visited. The time since has been spent at Lahaina and in the Wailuku, Hamakua and Kula districts.

This is Mr. Avery's first visit to Maui in an official capacity. The new inspector-general was until a few months ago principal of the Kauai High & Grammar School, being, in fact, largely the creator of that flourishing institution. At the first of the new year he will become statistician of the department, a new office created by the last legislature.

The inspector-general will leave afternoon for Molokai, from Lahaina, and will return to Lahaina next Wednesday and will catch the Claudine there back to Honolulu.

PRAYERS FOR SUCCESS.

President Wilson has issued a proclamation calling on the nation to make next Sunday a day of prayer in the churches for the success of American arms in the fight for democracy and lasting peace in the world. It is assumed that the request will be heeded in all the churches of Maui.

COOPER PASSES EYE TEST

In the eye test completed at the officers' training camp on Oahu last Saturday, Will J. Cooper, of Maui, passed, according to a wireless received from him. Four men in the entire bunch failed to pass the test.
